The Chicken | Each participating restaurant will receive at least three 40 lb. boxes (approximately 400 wings) of wings to prepare. Wings will be delivered to your restaurant the week leading up to the contest.

The Cooking | Wings can be cooked on- or off-site. Restaurants can arrive anytime after 11 a.m. and should be set up and ready to go by 12:30 p.m.

Off-Site Cooking: Warming apparatus is recommended following Health Department temperature guidelines.

On-Site Cooking: Covered cooking space will be provided when on-site cooking is noted on the registration form. No electric or water access; restaurants need to provide their own.

Rules: Wings can be prepared in any fashion, with any seasoning, sauce, rub or flavoring. The people will decide which they like the best. One style only. Bring your best! Competition held on the tennis courts next to Beer Beach.

Deadline | Registration form must be filled out and submitted by Friday, March 24, 2017. Space is limited to 10 vendors.

Promo Support | Judging is strictly up to the people, so the more of your regular guests you get out to vote, the better chance you'll have of winning. We'll also help by providing posters to display in your restaurant.

Scoring Process | Pork in the Park attendees will be the judge – this contest is truly up to the people's vote. Upon entry, each "judge" will be given a Wing Wars Voters Card in which participating restaurants have their logo printed. Each person may receive only two wings from each restaurant. Logos will be hole punched indicating the judge has tried wings from those restaurants. The restaurant with the most accumulated cards will be declared Lord of the Wings!

Prizes | Winner receives $200 cash and a banner to display in your restaurant. Winner will be announced and invited onto the festival main stage at 4 p.m.
